Scout Fund Canvass Is Very Successful

The Scout Fund Canvass made last week was decidedly successful, and the objective will be reached and more. The Scout Council feel very gratified to the people for their liberal support in this matter, which means that Scouting in Raymond can now receive its share of Provincial attention in general Scout business.

The trip to Calgary to meet Chief Scout Lord Baden-Powell and Lady, will be the next great venture. This will take place on April 22nd, and details of the entire day will be printed later.

For this week we have been asked to state, that Tickets will be on sale next Monday for the trip, through the Scoutmasters and assistants of the various wards. The fare from Raymond and return will be $4.10, the tickets must be either purchased or promised by April 15th so the committee will know how many coaches to have spotted here in Raymond. Fathers of the boys and especially all adults are invited to make the trip and join in the program of the day.

All boys under 13 will be permitted to travel half fare, or 2 on one ticket. Watch for further details.

U. F. A. Meeting Wednesday Night

A well attended and interesting meeting was held in the Town Hall Wednesday evening last under the auspices of the local U.F.A., with Wm. Redd in the Chair.

Speakers were John A. Johansen of Cardston, Organizer for the Federal Constituency U.F.A., and Mrs. Peterson of Iron Springs, a Director of the U.F.W.A. The main topic of the evening was spent in dealing with the financial problems facing the Province and the world, and the moves so far made to correct them. Reference was made to the efforts of the present Government to cope with the situation and their decision to more thoroughly investigate the Douglas and Aberhart theories of Social Credit.

After the meeting nearly all of those attending divided into small groups and remained for some time further discussing the problems that were treated in the meeting.

LIBERTY'S CANADIAN HALL OF FAME No. 1

Governor General Vere Brampton Pensonby, the Earl of Bessborough, first of his position to have a son born in Canada. He is fifty-four, stands six feet two inches and looks taller because of the tall hats he wears. His family is often called the "haughty Pensonbys." Tracing his family back 400 years, he has ancestors who fought with Cromwell's Ironsides. Before coming to Rideau Hall, Ottawa, he controlled a big railway in Brazil and a bigger diamond mine in Africa. Likes to paint signs and scenery, enjoys the theater. Has played most leading Shakespearean parts, but likes to work back stage better. Owns a theater. He has twenty-three honorary addresses, 203 suits, several imported motors and three dozen college degrees. Gets $1,000 a week for being Governor General, but thinks that's too much, so he gives back $100.

Well Attended Board of Trade Meeting

A well attended and interesting Board of Trade Meeting was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening last, with speakers from the "Single Tax Group" of Milk River were present to present their views on the taxation question to the meeting.

Preceding the speeches, the minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted, and a discussion regarding the surfacing of the road between here and Sunshine, either by way of Craddock or by way of Stirling was discussed. In the absence of Mayor W. G. Meeks, the Chairman of the Road Committee, no official report was given, but Stirling had been visited, and a representation from their Board of Trade was presented, asking for a conference between their men and a representation from the local Board, to confer on the routing of the road. After considerable discussion it was decided to have the two Roads Committees of Stirling and Raymond Board of Trades, with representatives of each division of the municipality, get together, go over the situation, present arguments for and against the two proposed routes, and formulate a petition to the Municipal Council, showing a united front, and a unified request from the people of the district for the surfacing of this stretch of the road. This will likely be presented at the next meeting of the Municipal Council.

The meeting was then turned over to the visitors, and Fred Pease, a pioneer in the Single Tax field, Sam Hulme, Secretary of the Milk River village, and Mr. Moyer, one of the merchants of the village, all spoke in behalf of the village, and in support of the proposition that all taxes should be levied on the land value, and that a man should not be taxed for improvements and buildings he erects on his property, whether in town or out of town. In his opening remarks Mr. Pease said, "Single Tax -- a method of giving all equal rights to the land. In every work and labor to obtain these rights to all the land was vested in 12 p.c. of the people, and the other 88 p.c. were renters, where statistics were available and were consequently paying the name of the "Bonnie Amie Club" wishing them God speed.

ATTENTION! OUR "CRITICAL FRIEND"

We received your long epistle, signed, "A Critical Friend." We would very much appreciate having you come in, so we could talk it over, or else maybe you would sign your name, so we would know who to thank for the valuable suggestions contained in the article.

We also notice a very decided laxity in detail as to names and statements regarding our many sins of commission and omission. If we had the name of the writer of this article we would know just how much weight to attach to it. Usually when one withholds his or her name there is some good reason, and generally these communications are treated rather lightly. However, come in and let us know who you are. We hope we never get too hide-bound to accept friendly criticism, and improve where it will help us.

Annual Payson Reunion Is Well Attended

CANADIAN CLUB STILL IN BASKETBALL RUNNING

(By F. Howard Forsyth)

PROVO, Utah, Feb. 25.--Recovering slightly from a mid-season slump which saw their title hopes crash as they lost a game to Idaho, and another to Lehi, the Canadian club basketball quintet rallied in the last five minutes of a game with American Fork here tonight and poured in six baskets in that time to win handily, 27-21, in the inter club tournament at Brigham Young University here.

Idaho and Summitt, the league pace setters, have lost one game and thereby are favored to go into the final schedule against the two best teams in the southern division of the league, to determine the championship in the autumn quarter, but her two defeats give her only an outside chance this quarter, especially when the boys are playing better form in their last three or four games, perhaps due to stolen games.

Harris Walker, as usual, led the scoring which saw Canada pull ahead of Lehi. Stewart Grow also scored heavily. Vetter Pitcher played a good game at guard before he went out on personal fouls. The playing time was thirty minutes.

The scoring:

H. Walker	12
B. King	2
F. Walker	2
S. Grow	11
W. Pitcher	0
H. Keith, sub. gd.	0

The weather took a decided turn for the colder proportions Sunday evening, after a very beautiful day, and a north wind with fine snow was blowing all day Monday.

The Annual Payson Reunion was held in the Raymond Opera House Saturday afternoon last at 3 o'clock, when 262 Paysonites and descendants registered, and there were a number who only attended the dance, and therefore did not register, so that one is safe in saying that between 275 and 300 people attended. They were gathered from all over Southern Alberta, and after the greetings, the following program was rendered, with Bishop Fawns of Stirling as Master of Ceremonies:

Community singing, led by LeRoy Anderson.

Anecdotes, related by Bishop Fawns.

Male Quartette--4 sons-in-law of Bishop Johnson, Barnwell, "Sweet and Low," and "Isle of Capree."

Reading--Maureen Powelson, "How Johnny Kept House."

Instrumental Selections--Lyon Anderson and Logan McLean.

Mrs. Haresck of Raymond, oldest lady present, related a number of her early recollections of life in Payson.

Reading--Mrs. Pearl Keith. "Negro Sketch--Willis Fawns. "Trouble, Trouble, Trouble."

Ed. Fairbanks was the oldest gent in the party.

Step Dance--Harry Fairbanks.

Reading--Leland Holman of Taber.

Harmonica Solo--Walter Fairbanks.

Comic Song--Roy Anderson. "Would You If You Were Me?"

Lunch was served Cafeteria Style from 6 p.m. to 7:30, then games until 9 p.m., from which time until 11 o'clock, dancing was enjoyed, many of the old-time dances, such as rye waltz, Virginia reels, quadrilles, lancers, etc., being danced with Lou King, piano; Theo. Allan, drums; Lief Erickson, violin.

Present officers:--Chairman D. M. Powelson; Vice-Chairman D. G. Selman; Sec.-Treas.-Geo. Fairbanks; Refreshment Committee, A. E. Haresck, Chairman; Program and Amusement Committee, E. J. Fawns, Chairman; Committee on Games, Harry Fairbanks, Chairman; Invitation and Reception, C. Wm. Selman, Chairman.

District Trustees Meet Tuesday

A meeting of the District Trustees Association, comprising all of Southern Alberta, was held in Lethbridge Tuesday last with F. Tollestrup and G. Selman representing the local School Board.

School supplies and their purchase, came in for considerable discussion, and the feeling was that a saving of at least 50 p.c. to the parents could be made on these supplies, including texts, scribbles and everything else, by purchasing in bulk, and having them sold by the staff at the school house. Statistics were given by some of the districts where this had been done, and they were highly in favor of it. More information on this will be forthcoming later.

Another item was a travelling library, it being the unanimous opinion that this idea should be thoroughly investigated and if possible instituted here which would include all south from Claresholm, and east as far as Taber in this district. Fresh books, more variety, and far less cost would all be accomplished and at an estimated cost of $1 per family per year. The local delegates are expecting to hear more of this scheme.

DO WE KNOW
WHAT WE WANT

Will We Know when we Get It

Right now the minds of people everywhere are in a whirl, and a maze. What with Social Credit, Single Tax, the Townsend System, the Bennett reform program, and numerous other projected means to attaining an Eden for mankind, one wonders whether or not the majority of voters know what it's all about, and whether they have a clear conception of what they actually want in the way of reform.

This sounds like a foolish question, we admit; but we have found that in the past most elections have been won or lost on personal promises and appeal of the party and its candidates, more than on any real foundation principles. In town politics we frequently vote for one man because we like him, regardless of any ability of the man to fill the bill in the office he aspires to. We remember that in the last Dominion election everything else in the Conservative platform was last sight of in the promise of the leader to end unemployment and to bring back a cycle of good times. It looks as though the good times were about to start, but unemployment is still a very vital question with every province and city in the Dominion.

It is not our purpose to endeavor to analyze the pros and cons of any of the present parties or systems, nor to try and influence any person or group of persons in their adherence to any program. What we would like to see is for voters to endeavor to find out the fundamentals underlying each proposed change, try and decide what party or program you prefer, and then STUDY, STUDY, and then study some more on that program, until you know what and why regarding every point of it. If all you know about Social Credit for instance is the proposed dividend, or $25 per month as most people express it, then we will bet dollars to doughnuts that after the political campaign gets under way and a few speakers get your ear, that you will not vote for this program. Why? Simply because you do not understand it and have not made a study of it. If you think all there is to Single Tax is taxation of land values, then you will never support it with your vote, because you do not understand the way it proposes to equalize the taxation burden, and to remove the inequalities that now exist. And so on with the other proposed changes.

In the past the question of which party was in power has not made any particular difference to us as a people. THAT TIME HAS PASSED. We have reached a crisis in our national existence, when changes must be made. To continue our present system of pyramiding provincial and Dominion debt, increasing our interest charges, and paying other people for privileges and rights that our inheritance gives to us, means but one thing, and that is financial ruin, individually and as a nation. The idea of temporary prosperity without an equalization of responsibility and opportunity, is merely postponing the final debacle of ruin and remorse.

None of us want revolution. None of us want bloodshed. None of us want our individual rights taken from us, for all Christians believe that it is a God-given right to seek for individual freedom, enjoyment and the pursuit of happiness. Will any of us deny that there is no way out. Without being accused of trying to reach, we are sure that among those now living are men of greater ability than any who have ever lived. We should be broad-minded, and because one man or a group of men comes forward with suggestions that are new, that are in advance of our thought, and that are untried, we should not decry them. Every worthwhile advancement in the world's history has been the outcome of evolution, frequently revolution, and always progress. Are we devoid of individual thought and interest in these things? It is impossible to know of the present trend of thought without hearing and study and reflection. Shake off the fetters of party of personal like and dislike, of individual security and affluence if it need be, and study these problems in the light of present day needs, not in the light of ten, five, or even one year ago. As Canadians, we MUST do this.

FIRST BEAUTY RULES

It is all very well for politicians and the philosophers to remind us that all men are equal, but this brings small comfort to women who are continually meeting others of their sex more gifted, or better dressed than they.

However, there is one consoling fact about cultivating individual beauty—unlike acquiring a wardrobe—the woman with a small income may practice the fundamentals of beauty culture as well as the woman of large means. Twenty minutes a day, every day, devoted to your beauty regime will have results which will amaze you in a few short months. Remember that uninteresting faces and heavy, stolid bodies are merely the result of neglect.

Now our first beauty rule to learn is cleanliness, inwardly and outwardly, in order to eliminate body poisons.

Cleanliness within can be aided by drinking at least six glasses of water a day, with lemon juice added to the glass taken before breakfast. For outward cleanliness the daily bath is an absolute essential. Follow by a brisk rubdown. If you cannot have a good tubbing, have a shower or sponge bath, but don't miss a day, as the

Now for your facial cleansing. Treat the skin of your face as tenderly as you would precious lace or fine satin, and it will respond by rewarding you with a lovely complexion. Each night, use a rich cleansing cream that will sink into the pores and loosen up the day's accumulation of dust and dirt. If you are troubled with blackheads, use a granulated washing preparation to correct the condition and refine the skin, two or three times a week. Try gently slapping your face dry instead of using a towel. This sets up a glow of swiftly circulating blood.

Finally, be very careful about clean tissues and powder puffs.

MAKING A HOTBED

The hotbed affords an effective means of adding to the growing season and is especially useful when spring tends to "linger" in the lap of winter and the garden soil remains too cold and wet for outside seedling. Vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, celery, cauliflower, late cabbage, Brussel sprouts, and many annual flowers including asters snapdragons, petunias, annual stocks, verbenas, lobelia, and annual phlox need to be started under cover early in April while a hotbed is equally useful in growing early cabbage, early head lettuce and other vegetables.

A hotbed is made by placing a covered frame over a pit filled with warm manure and filling the frame with about six inches of soil. The frame is usually about six feet wide and about eighteen feet in length or long enough to provide the space required. In making the pit the soil is taken out to a depth of about eighteen inches and at least three feet wider than the frame to provide room for banking which is important in conserving heat of the hotbed.

Storm windows make a very good covering but where these are not available ashes covered with unbleached cotton sacking very well. The only danger in using this material is during very cold weather when a covering such as mats or canvas will be needed to protect plants from freezing.

The first step in making the hotbed after the pit is dug and the frame and sashes are provided is to pile the manure near the hotbed site. To have the hotbed ready for use the first week in April the manure needs to be piled sometime before the middle of March. In piling, the manure is spread out in six-inch layers and each layer is well tramped and thoroughly soaked with water. The pile needs to be as long and as wide as the pit and at least 3 feet high.

Seven to ten days after the manure has been piled it is usually quite hot and ready to be put in the pit. As in piling, the manure is put into the bed in even layers and the manure is forked so that the long and short manure are well mixed. Each layer is well tramped and thoroughly soaked with water.

Using fresh horse manure with about one-third straw and soaking with water in piling and again in the pit, heating is slower in starting than it would be in a richer and somewhat dryer mixture, but the heat is more uniform and lasts longer. Too much straw in the manure is avoided because it would heat too slowly at the start and get too hot later on. Rotted or "fire-fanged" manure is of no use.

The pit is filled to a depth of 12 or 15 inches of well packed manure and the hotbed frame is then set on top. A six-inch layer of manure is then put inside of the frame, while the outside is well banked with the same material. Next the sashes are fitted on the frame. Five or six days later the sashes are removed and the manure is tramped to make the bed level and a six-inch layer of garden soil is put on top of the manure and the sashes replaced. Later when the soil becomes very warm a little heat is allowed to escape by opening the sashes a little each day. Five or six days after the soil has been put in the hotbed the temperature usually falls to somewhere between 80 and 90 degrees and the hotbed is then ready for use. It is important not to seed until the temperature has dropped to 90 degrees or lower. For this reason the use of a metal thermometer is recommended in obtaining the temperature of the soil. Further details on making a hotbed are given in "The Prairie Farmer's Vegetable Garden," bulletin No. 43, New Series.

PERPLEXITY

(By Esbee Ess)

I met a man the other day who said that things were tough That in a land of plenty, he could not get enough;
And though a bounteous Providence had blest with lavish hand,
The cry of want and misery, were heard throughout the land.He said the stores were stocked with clothes, to cover peo-

And yet his own dear wife at home was dressed in coarse

His daughter—she was pale and thin, and sighed the whole day long,
No more they saw her lovely smile, or heard her happy song.The more the population grows, the less there is to do,—
The man who has a job today, tomorrow may be thro;The more good food the farmer grows, the less we get to eat,
And big machines secure the work while men parade the street.This fellow said "Machinery, in this old world of sin,
Has taken backache out ofwork, and put the heart-

He'd "rather see the working man provide his board and

Than have a few shareholders

ment SOON.Orson Biglow and daughter, spent the week-end with Mr.
and Mrs. M. R. Woolf here. Mrs.
Woolf is a daughter of Mr. Bigelow.Our present storm is lasting well for this time of year, and the thermometer is holding down to zero and below.

News Notes

Max and Owen Steed were in Raymond the first part of the week. Their father is not well these days, an old trouble bothering him again, which he thought he had all cured up.Mesdames Frank Hall, Robt.
Webster, M. Allred, W. Kirkham,
F. W. Leavitt, C. D. Compton, T. F. Allen, H. F. Allen, and
R. W. Tollestrup were in Lethbridge on Wednesday to the District Convention of the Women's Institute, which included all Institutes south of Calgary.
They report a very profitable and interesting day.Mrs. Percy Price and children of Calgary are visitors at the home of their uncle and aunt,
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hutchinson.Kasper Blaskovits, Thomas Blaskovits, and Peter Kosa, were the Raymond men who appeared before Judge Jackson on Tuesday applying for citizenship. All the applications are being held until March 15, to give time for any objections registered with the Court.Be on hand Saturday night to see the Shelby All Stars and the Jacks mix things up. The visitors are a splendid team, and plenty rapid, and the Jacks with the Provincial championship in sight will be out to add another scalp to their belts, and they say, "it might as well be Shelby as anyone else." Get your seat early.Mrs. Frank Hall returned Sunday evening from a hurried trip to Utah, where she had been attending the funeral services of her father, Mr. J. M.
Brown, an old-timer of Raymond, who died recently.Wednesday night's Herald stated that Wm. Aberhart would be invited to appear before a Committee of the House, representing all parties, and present his plan of Social Credit operation for Alberta.Oliver Wendell Holmes, former U. S. Chief Justice, passed away at his home in Washington at 2:15 Wednesday morning, at the age of 94. He had been a writer of some note, and an international character. His death was due to pneumonia.

Facts About Raymond

During our short time in Lethbridge we have supplied 72 Raymond people with glasses. They can be classified as follows:

Near Sighted	5	Astigmatism	12
Far Sighted	15	Near Sight and
Normal Vision but		Astigmatism	12
need reading glasses	3	Far Sight and
		Astigmatism	24

Those with one eye near sighted and one eye far sighted one.The word astigmatism literally means "without a point," a condition in which the waves of light are not focussed at one point.Perhaps you too, need glasses. Why not arrange to have an examination by our Sight Specialist.

PRICES ALWAYS REASONABLE.

Open Evenings and Wednesday by Appointment.

The Town Hall was crowded Monday night for the Board of Trade meeting when the "Single Tax" group from Milk River spoke on the benefits and principles of this subject. Their addresses were very interesting indeed.Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hancock of Cardston, Mr. and Mrs. W.
A. Mitchell, Miss Lillis Hancock of Lethbridge and Loren Hancock from Stirling, were in town to attend the Payson Reunion, and spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.
E. Hancock.No figures are available, but we understand that the Scout fund received a very liberal patronage in the canvass that was made last week."The Count of Monte Cristo" was all that was claimed for it in advertisements, and everyone enjoyed it immensely, some going back Saturday night to see it the second time.Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Snow were at the Temple on Wednesday.Raymond had a bevy of basketball games Friday night last when the local High beat the Cardston High in a league game, the Idlers took the measure of the Lethbridge Collegiate quint, and the Raymond Hi Juniors defeated the "Y" Midgets. The latter two games were merely exhibition encounters.At the School Board meeting held Monday, C. F. Tollest-rup was again elected chairman of the Board for the coming year, and the personnel of all the Committees was left intact, the Trustees feeling that they could work just as well in the same committees again as to be changed around.The north wind died down during Tuesday night, the snow stopped falling, and after a nos-dive of a few degrees, the thermometer started up again, and noon Wednesday found it quite pleasant.
